"We now have a better accountability of what, where and how much evidence we have on hand at all times"
Sonoma County Sheriff - CA

Sonoma County- CA

Real-World Results…

The amount of time EvidenceOnQ is saving Sonoma County with evidence management is "monumental". It Now takes only about a quarter of the time to process evidence compared to their previous system. This kind of time savings is important when you consider that between 1,500 and 2,500 evidence items flow into the evidence room each month. "We can take in up to about 300 items of evidence on a homicide, from 100 to 150 items on a child molestation case, and 70 to 80 evidence items from one drug case that may involve methamphetamine, heroin, cocaine, and marijuana easily in one day" Ritter said. "This used to be an impossible nightmare"…

Sonoma County also gained significant benefits for searching and reporting. "The sheriff can come to me and ask how many guns, money or narcotics we have and I can provide him a report via email or printed in 10 minutes. I can break it down in to type, amounts and more."
